Each day that you live in rebellion, you there by guarantee yourself another day of freedom, another day to live and another day to choose who you're gonna be.
The only thing they can't take away from you is your will to survive

Today's rebellion is tomorrow's freedom

So much tension in the air - you won't know what f**king hit you Nobody seems to even care - no one's left there to assist you Ignore it and will go away - you earn your rights and solve your problems Can't deal with it another day - this fucked up system has gotta be taken down

No Society
Fuck you and your society

This world's become an evil place - people starving
children dying
Who will save the human race - the system fails by always lying Problems can't be left alone - now it's time to take some action
They're in my work and in my home - no time for fractions this is fucking war

No Society
Fuck you and your society

Today's Rebellion, Tomorrow's freedom
(These fucked up kids are going to win this war)

So much tension in the air - nobody even seems to care Ignore it and it won't go away - I can't deal with this another day

This world's become an evil place - people starving

children dying
Who will save the human race - the system fails by
always lying
They're in my work and in my home - no time for
fractions this is fucking war

No Society
Fuck you and your society

Today's Rebellion, Tomorrow's freedom
(These fucked up kids are going to win this war)

So much tension in the air - nobody fucking seems to care Ignore it and it won't go away - I can't deal with it another day
