Curtains of the world
Pulled by the weak
Made by the strong
Fear is to keep you where you belong
You fall apart while they grow strong
Regret and despair
No longer to care for what you used to live
Your dreams are turning into nightmares you can't control

Your minds landscape turned reality
Forms and shapes disappear

Where daylight fails
There is no sorrow
No hope
No life
No tomorrow
It's frozen situation
The final score
There is no imagination of anything

Fight for a life you'll never ever reach
A life like it is on TV
Drown your confidence in alcohol
To feel strong
To feel save
To be free
Work for the man you've never ever seen
Pay for what is yours anyway
A wheel in the machine of society
Reliable
Just how you should be

Your minds landscape turned reality
Forms and shapes disappear

Where daylight fails
There is no sorrow
No hope
No life

No tomorrow
It's frozen situation
The final score
There is no imagination of anything

Stand up
Stand tall
Cry out
You will not fall
Believe in you
Let your desires come true

Where daylight fails
There is no sorrow
No hope
No life
No tomorrow
It's frozen situation
The final score
There is no imagination of anything
A forwardlooking revelation
Forevermore
In a fictional global nation under control
We will be part of it
