well it may be hard to sleep at night and it may be harder not to fight it but when worst comes to worst, don't just sit and hide it let it all work out and don't deny it and now we try so hard at night, to pass it by without a fight maybe the time is here and I wish this was a dream, you really need to leave so take your bags and go with your memories from night to night oh this goes on and on, and i'm so overcome all this time has passed us by and this is where we finally lie head up face out, this is not your last goodbye go on just leave me here, cause this night is going to hell well its just one more night, we'll make this time turn out well

out well
(we'll make this time turn out) and this goes on and on and i'm so overcome
