You said that this would my heart prevails without you
Was it me that made you scream and yell at me
And it's over

You've overdone
You've overdone it to me
And I can see that this is all too much for me

We would sit always just saying
Can't you just say it
That I want to
And all the times through the lies we have made it
And all the times through the lies we've made it

You've overdone
You've overdone it to me
And I can see that this is all too much for me
