Before you came
I was ready to go out and change my name there was nothing left I wouldn't find profane I was gambling hoping I'd be born again
now I'm nothing, nothing wake me up in my tree
wide awake
there's space and time and there'll be always someone to leave behind I'm not visual enough to lead the blind if you're out of pain I might just give you mine 'cause I'm nothing , nothing
wake me up in my tree
I'm everything and nothing all the same waiting up in my tree
pass the test and come to me pretty and I will take you back to the city cause I know you are everything and nothing all the same
wide awake
I'm waiting , waiting
