Its just not how it used to be
I feel you're not a part of me
And then there's days
When I feel too much time
Is spent trying to figure why

I can look right through you
I can hardly recognize the signs
Its not the same its not
I want you to know

You're making me tired
You're making me weak
I find it hard to believe you now
When all that you've said
Still hasn't been done
You make it hard to be near you now

The farthest hope that I can see
Is reaching through the heart of me
The endless days of asking myself "why"
Are days I'm spending out of mind

I can look right through you
I can hardly recognize the signs
Its not the same its not
I want you to know

You're making me tired
You're making me weak
I find it hard to believe you now
When all that you've said
Still hasn't been done
You make it hard to be near you now

I can't tell what's on your mind
Pacifiable or blind
To think I thought I knew you when
The end was not in sight
But I keep coming to you
Hope that it's right

You're making me tired
You're making me weak
I find it hard to believe you now
When all that you've said
Still hasn't been done
You make it hard to be near you now

Can never tell what's on your mind
Amplify wasted time with you
Remember when it felt so right
Now everyone says we should be through

You're making me tired
You're making me weak
I find it hard to be near you now
