We talk a little relationship
While listening in to 'Lover's spit'
My thoughts go like...
And every time we avoid a kiss
We're talking all but relationship
And when you bring some common sense
My eyes go like...

Everyday I work on the road
I pave it until it turns to gold
And every day that I am away
You say you miss me
Every second I'm away, yeah, it hits me
The giggles and the scent and the need make me
dizzy
Maybe one day we'll awake
And it will fall into place

So finally we talk common sense
It doesn't work out, we'll act like friends
We smile a little

If you still mean it
Have a sip
On ending our Relationship

With every second that goes by
Can you hear it?

Everyday I work on the road
I pave it until it turns to gold
And every day that I am away
You say you miss me
Every second I'm away, yeah, it hits me
The giggles and the scent and the need make me
Maybe one day we'll awake
And it will fall into place

Now months have passed
Another planet

And instincts rise
Just to forget it
Still everyday it hits

So many nights
Nothing to say
I'm kept awake
By girls with fake names
Everything forward, no looking back
I'll have another sip

Everyday I work on the road
I pave it until it turns to gold
And every day that I am away
I know you miss me

Even when I seem to stay I'm not with you
Right now I'm just an inch away:
You can't get trough
Maybe one day we'll awake
And it will fall into place

Every second I'm away, yeah, it hits me
The giggles and the scent and the need make me
Maybe one day we'll awake
And it will fall into place
