Lyrics: R. Olson

The sombre massive clouds heals the scars burnt of the sun

Where a last forsaken light slowly withers through An eclipsed night has emerged when all that haunts shall be revealed

Thoughts now reaches through to barriers towards where spirits rest

The session brings forth forgotten epochs through the dark

Silence slowly ceases and changes into monotone
words

Silhouettes seems to fall filtered out of thin air
A passage has reopened towards eyes who seek the never seen

Now thoughts befog the moon to link into the ceased
To vanish into levitation through sepulchral shadows

Coldsweat, a sudden freezing wind
A sinister feeling comes breathing down my neck

Vibration, a stench fills the air
The sHadows seems to grip me as they upon my skin

Convulsions, time is turning backwards
I feel the light being removed from my eyes Levitation, the utter step of death Only flesh is left to bury when I have stalked into the past

The session brings forth forgotten epochs through the

Silence slowly ceases and changes into monotone
words

Silhouettes seems to fall filtered out of thin air
A passage has reopened towards eyes who seek the

Now thoughts befog the moon to link into the ceased
To vanish into levitation through sepulchral shadows

Through sepulchral shadows
