You Said that you'd always be my friend
Standing beside me and true until the end

Cold Shoulder

I can't believe it's happening but it's true
Something evil came along and put a spell on you
It took me this long to realize
That you weren't down, just a joker in disguise

Someday, that time will come
You'll be in desperate need
And there won't be anyone
Someday you'll realize,
That nothing you say can be justified

Cold Shoulder

Remember all the times that I bled for you
Rolling with the punches that were thrown at you
I thought you had an honest face
But instead, you turned out to be a big disgrace

Cold Shoulder

Someday, that time will come
You'll be in desperate need
And there won't be anyone
Someday you'll realize,
That nothing you say can be justified
