I'm a hot shot drenched in etiquette
But dried off I'm not to delicate
Hey there, you'd be surprised
From the first shot surrounded in a corner
Everyone knows who I am but me
Why can't I figure it out?
People talking fills the air
They look at me but I'm not there
I'm disconnected
Your call has been rejected
Last call has never been so far away
Count the lies 'till it's time to make a getaway
One more pat on the back
And I'll lose my mind
People talking fills the air
They look at me but I'm not there
I'm disconnected
Your call has been rejected
Who can I count on
When so much has gone wrong?
Everyone is my best friend
But they don't know me and I don't know them
(There are 3 rules:
Smile 'n nod politely,
Ask for their names always remember their names,
But know where the boundaries are Never cross the line don't let them inside
'Cause they're not gonna like what they find)
People talking fills the air
They look at me but I'm not there
I'm disconnected
People talking fills the air
They look at me but I'm not there
I'm disconnected
Your call has been rejected
People talking fills the air
(I'm disconnected)
They look at me but I'm not there
