Wait, checking out the problem at hand
Is it time again?
Before the problem even began
And lend a helping hand

Against my intuition
And listen to me very carefully
It isn't a condition we learned
But we're given naturally

Defiant, don't buy it
A client of the system
And so they say, to get your way
Just stop and make em listen

Because
Destiny will be yours, and yours alone
I don't want to know the taste
When I throw a dog a bone

So, when I throw it up
I'll take it right back, and eat again

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you
Choose my insecurities
When I show it all to

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you
Choose my insecurities
When I show it all to you

Another sad sight
Walking the night
With a face like a gent
And the strut of a knife

Gimme life, is what he said
When the question was asked
In the past, he might have thought
The words he spoke were his last

So, when I throw it up
I'll take it right back, and eat again

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you
Choose my insecurities
When I show it all to

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you
Choose my insecurities
When I show it all to you

You've taught me vanity's appeal
I lied...
You've showed me exactly how to feel
It's all lies...
What your looking for is real

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you

Posture mimics statuettes
Unfold for you
When I show it all to you
