My hate shall seeth
Piercing the very air I breath
Sinking to the ground like a seed
Mutation another life from me
And I am damned damned to live in the night
Oh damned damned not to be in the light
The night

Watching creeping behind you thinking always
Of the man you slew
Coming to me through your blood
Thoughts of deception for the ones you love

And I am damned damned to live in the night
Oh damned damned not to be in the light
The light

Nations have fallen wars have destroyed
Religious rules have been the exploit

Times I have travelled times I have killed
A thousand demons for the blood I have spilled

The morning sun could take it all way and set me free
I don't want to be another child of the night
Damned not to be in the light
