I think I've seen every star in the sky tonight
Removed from the city lights, has never seemed so bright
I know I shouldn't believe a word you say.
I do anyway, cause I'm dumb like that.

And all the words I've given to you
When you smiled I thought that it meant something else.
You were just being yourself, being nice,
You're always rather polite to me.

You let me down again, when you ignored the things I said to you
If I was scared of you then maybe I could leave
And if I walked away right now,
There would be nothing left for me to lose but doubt.

I Never fell so far for anyone before, never again I swore,
With you hope was restored. You Make me feel like I've been torn apart
I don't like that at all. I've lost control

And all the words I've given to you, I poured my heart out into an empty coffee
Cup, you drank it up, & left me here to drown, alone.
You let me down again, when you ignored the things I
said to you.
If I was scared of you, then maybe I could leave.
Cause if I walked away right now, there would be nothing left for me to lose
But I can't lose you I can't lose you

I think I've seen every star that I care to see,
But I don't wanna leave. It hurts when you're self deceived
I know I shouldn't believe a word you say, I do it anyway, cause I'm dumb like that.

And all the words I've given to you

When you smiled I thought that it meant something else.
You were just being yourself, being nice, your always rather polite to me.

You let me down again, when you ignored the things I
said to you
If I was scared of you then maybe I could leave
Cause if I walked away right now,
There would be nothing left for me to lose but doubt.
But doubt, but doubt.
There's nothing left, there's nothing left for me to lose
but doubt,
There's nothing left, there's nothing left for me to lose
but doubt,
There's nothing left, there's nothing left.
