[Verse 1]

Yeah

See, breaking up it's hard to move along it's even harder

It's over she got colder now can't locate where her heart is

And I'm just being honest, since we not even talking
My mind won't let you go

She even consider stalking na

You know I be teasin' no

You know that my ego won't

Thought this was forever love

Guess that was just seasonal

She got back with her old boy

She's probably had a reason though

Although thought that we would grow

Guess that wasn't feasible

But we ain't gotta be beefin tho

I miss you at my recent show

Speak to cj often tho

Sometimes I just wanna speak you up

Yeah, hit you up, or call you up, or send a text

Your new man got my respect

So if I do call it's just a check

Heard that you ight though

My nigga for life though

It's funny how this life go

We love for a while then a light goes

Took me a while just to write those

Pride I had to fight so I'mma stop right here

And I know you don't care

But I hope you got that bite boo
