Father come save us from this madness we're under God of creation are we blind?
Cause some here are slaves that worship guns that spit thunder
The children that you've made have lost their minds
This monster that we call the earth is bleeding Cause the children have been left alone too long This thing that we've made is fat and feeds on the hate
Of the millions that it's taught to sing the song

The Headless Children
The screams that fill the night, fill the night, fill the night, fill the night
The Headless Children
The madness steals the light, steals the light, steals
the light, steals the light

Timebombs in the hands of all the wicked war babies Light the fuse of temptation and we all burn

Four horsemen sit high up in the saddle
And waiting and ride the bloody trail of no return Sleeping in the arms of a nightmare
And wake to find we've been away too long This frankenstein of flesh stitched together back from death
And preying on the souls of everyone

The Headless Children
The screams that fill the night, fill the night, fill the
night, fill the night
The Headless Children
The madness steals the light, steals the light, steals
the light, steals the light
