All The Times

All the times she talked of death

All the times she talked of him

All the times she cut herself

The pain runs through me aswell

All the times she cried over him

All the stories she made of him

All the times she thought of death

The pain runs through me aswell

All the times I cried for her

All the times I prayed for her

All the times I was scared for her

She never knew I did

All those times in the past

All those thoughts that might never pass

All those days we were hurt

She always thought the worst

All the times I tried to think

Everytime to comfort her

Everytime they seemed to fail

I continued to pray...
