Maybe it's the glance from across the room
Or a hint of just the right perfume
Suddenly two strangers become friends
I don't know how love starts
But I sure know how it ends

Chorus:

A few angry words you just can't take back
Cold bitter tears as a suitcase is packed ext thing you know you're back
To being strangers again
I don't know how love starts
But I sure know how it ends
Maybe it's the way she says your name and no one else's touch feels quite the same Suddenly you find you're fallin' in
I don't know how love starts
But I sure know how it ends

Chorus

A few angry words you just can't take back
Cold bitter tears as a suitcase is packed

Love comes and goes
But don't ask me why or when
I don't know how love starts
But I sure know how it ends

I don't know how love starts
But I sure know how it ends
Good Cowgirls keep their calves together grin
