Somethin' bout the way she's wearin'
Her dress a little tighter
Somethin' bout the way she's starin'
She's lookin to start a fire
Somethin' bout the way she's dancin'
And drinkin' chilled Patron
If she's lonely now
She won't be lonely long

Heaven help the fool who did her wrong
It's too late, too bad, she's too far gone
He should've thought of that
Before he left her all alone
If she's lonely now
She won't be lonely long

Somethin' bout the way she's blushin'
You can tell she isn't sure
Let you know she's up to somethin'
She's never done before
Tonight she wants to hold a stranger
But not the one at home
If she's lonely now
She won't be lonely long

Heaven help the fool who did her wrong
It's too late, too bad, she's too far gone
He should've thought of that
Before he left her all alone
If she's lonely now
She won't be lonely long

If I had a woman like that
Man I'd let her know
I'd hold her tight
I'd hold her close
Do anythin', do everythin' to let her know
She'd never ever be alone

Heaven help the fool who did her wrong
It's too late, too bad, she's too far gone
He should've thought of that

Before he left her all alone
If she's lonely now
Lord if she's lonely now
If she's lonely now
She won't be lonely long
