Duck and cover, hid your head
Grab your lover, get under the bed
No time for talking, now shelter must be found Say bye bye because the sky is falling down

Lock the doors, start moving fast
Next breath you take is maybe your last Streets are empty, everybody's underground
Now we're all gonna die because the sky is falling down

Been trying to tell ya, you better run
You did'nt listen, now you time is done
The North Pole is melting and Santa Claus is leaving town
Well he has no where to fly because the sky is falling
down
You better say bye bye because the sky is falling down
