We go to work each day - Hey! Hey! - and it's such a sight.
Ands we wear it well they can't tell - no stereotype.
But we're watching and waiting for a weakness in your plan.
And when I take my shot you're gonna know just who I am

There's more of us each day we multiply try and try agian to kill us but we can't die.

Assimilating you with an iron fist.
So come quietly cause it's pointless to resist.
I'm workin' for the man.
I'm workin' for the man.
Who's got the plan.
And everything's well in hand just workin' for the man.

We'll be in your house quiet as a mouse tonight
And you will never know it won't show until the time is right.
Keeping taps on you our bites worse than our bark they've given us a number
But we'll never take the mark.
