Everyday the boat drives me away
Everyday it drives me away
Watch the sun set and rise
The sunrise
Overland becomes smaller and smaller

Don't wait there when I'll go
I closed the door but I did not lock it
I tried to get lost
But my feet getting close to the water wall
It's fast and thicker

Everyday the boat drives me away
Everyday it drives me away
Watch the sun set and rise
The sunrise
Overland becomes smaller and smaller

Run from the shore
Run follow
Sea turns to stone, sky turns to gray
What now a thousand miss sky promises
Make me forget and let me forget

Everyday the boat drives me away
Oh everyday it drives me away
I searched the books and I searched your body
Another horizon searches for me
