You've got so many things going your way today
But still you are lonely and noone listens to the things that you say
Depression is a lesson that you really gotta hold on to
Or is it fucked anyway for you
You've got so many things to say
But that won't help you in anyway
Because you're messed up and you're lost
In other peoples thoughts Tough situation you believe that you're afraid of yourself
You're looking around for directions and clues but you should look
Somewhere else cause
Somewhere inside you you can find the strength that you're looking for
Or is it fucked up anyway for you
You've got so many things to say
But that won't help you in anyway
Because you're messed up and you're lost
In other peoples thoughts
Do it for yourself today
You have got to find a way
So do it for yourself
You've got so many things to say
But that won't help you in anyway
Because you're messed up and you're lost
In other peoples thoughts
