Tanks rolling out on the ground, when the soldiers fire another round

People dying by their own hand, blood drameped into foreign land

Fighters blasting our cities down, our families lay on the ground

Oppressed people hiding every where, survivors left wounded and bare

World war, can't be won anymore, tell me what are you fighting for

Jump into combat, In the arms of death, Bullets stolen every single breath

Deprived life killed without thought, people are sold freedom is bought

World war, can't be won anymore, tell me what are you
fighting for

[Solo: Ruby]

Long after the scares are healed, stories told secrets revealed

Learn and understand! Don't live in fear! Exchange your guns for some cans of beer!

World war, can't be won anymore, tell me what are you
fighting for

World war, can't be won anymore, tell me what are you
fighting for

World war, can't be won anymore, tell me what are you
fighting for
