Desire you a new jog then I'll help you too, I tried
Just tell me how will you stuck in this butt lie
You can't learn how to think before you act
I really need some of this stance to react
Desire you a new lie that he saw that's still small
I bet your problems will soft if you're stoned on Another stab in the back but it's all right
I'm planning my revenge now and it's that time

We follow the proud and I'm still pretending
Pretending we will remain the same
Pretending we feel the same
Pretending we share the blame
But I know we should swallow our pride
And just try to avoid to collide

This is not did you say, I'm here into, it's glum
I will habit and now I'm just hanging on I'm not afield this thrill maybe you will Understand his life and his big feel
It's nothing to lose, so come on, just admit it Surrender in a soft and I know you're quick at We're running on it's our by my hand now
We are better under pressure I can understand now

We follow the proud and I'm still pretending
Pretending we will remain the same
Pretending we feel the same
Pretending we share the blame
But I know we should swallow our pride
and just try to avoid to collide
