You burnt your bridges I can see
You're like a river flowing free
Missing something that you never lost
New situation, breathe new life
Make it happen, stand and fight
Take your chances now don't count the cost

If your standing accused and you're lost and confused
You don't have to take the blame
When your life's rushing by
I'll lay there beside you
I'll help you to ease the pain
I know I could
I know I would
If you want me
If you love me then I could

You're running scared, I don't know why
You're only seen through the naked eye
If you reach out I will take your hand
I know you've got your quest to bear
I'll take the weight, I'll take my share
Let me show you how to live again

If your standing accused and your lost and confused
You don't have to take the blame
When your life's rushing by
I'll lay there beside you
I'll help you to ease the pain
I know I could
I know I would
If you want me
If you love me and I could
