"The End"

The end doesn't justify the means
And everything in between
All that's said and done
Everything and everyone
All you thought you had
Slipped and made you sad
Forgot about the past
A place where it would last
Don't you take everything
You can fuck everything
Don't you kill everything
I can't believe anything
The end doesn't mean anything
Or anything in between
It's all a waste of time
Longing for what is mine
All that makes you sad
Slipped into something bad
Forgot why you're here
It's all you hold dear
Don't you take everything
You can fuck everything
Don't you kill everything
I can't believe anything
Don't you take everything
You can fuck everything
Don't you kill everything
I can't believe anything
Don't you take everything
You can fuck everything
Don't you kill everything
I can't believe anything
Don't you take everything
You can fuck everything
Don't you kill everything
I can't believe anything
