They say, when something is lost and cut to pieces
It can never be found

I looked at your body
There were no organs, just a hollow rib cage
Is it hard to sleep without a brain to shut down?

Do you feel pain, without a smile to frown?
To frown?
T-to frown?
Ah-Ah-Ah-Ah-Ah

{Chorus}

There is the line and you crossed it
There it is, there it is
There is the line and you crossed it
I would help you but you're too far down
Too far down, too far down
I would help you but you're too far down
There it is, there it is
There it is, there it is
I would help you but you're too far down

I see girls like you in movies and magazines
All dolled up but not the gap in between

Anguished, repulsive, belligerent, fiend
The only place that's not dead is right in between

Anguished, repulsive, belligerent, fiend
The only place that's not dead is right in between

There is the line and you crossed it
There it is, there it is
There is the line and you crossed it
I would help you but you're too far down
Too far down, too far down
I would help you but you're too far down
There it is, there it is
There it is, there it is
I would help you but you're too far down

I would help you but you're too far down
I would help you but you're too far down
I would help you but you're too far down
I would help you but you're too far, too far down

There is the line and you crossed it
There it is, there it is
There is the line and you crossed it
I would help you but you're too far down
Too far down, too far down
I would help you but you're too far down
There it is, there it is
There it is, there it is
I would help you but you're too far down
