I can't sleep tonight
Thoughts of you will greet the morning light
Our eyes can meet tonight
In my dreams I wanna say what's right
Buses, trains and cars never got me far
And never got me close, no no no
Not a jet plane up above couldn't take me fast enough
Than the speed of love

It seems that through my life
I've been searching to find you
Always a step ahead or a day behind
You know that I will keep, I'll keep on looking for What had already been found, baby
Then it all came down at the speed, speed of love

And every time before that you walked out the door
I couldn't bring myself to say
The things to make you stay
What I'm saying now baby

If we could meet tonight
I'd tell you every little thing will be alright
Oh, but what I need tonight
Is that golden moment to speak my mind
I know what you wanna hear
So let me make things clear
I need you in my life, before I, I lose my mind
I've been looking all around, couldn't find you fast enough
At the speed of love
At the speed of love
Speed of love baby
Speed of love, baby
Speed of love
Speed of love
