I'm not Lisa, my name is Julie, Lisa left you years ago
My eyes are not blue but mine won't leave you
Till the sunlight has touched your face

She was your morning light
Her smile told of no night
And your love for her grew
With each rising sun

And then one winter day his hand led hers away
She left you here drowning in your tears
Here where you've stayed for years
Crying, Lisa, Lisa

I'm not Lisa, my name is Julie, Lisa left you years ago
My eyes are not blue but mine won't leave you
Till the sunlight shines through your face, I'm not Lisa
