Everyday is the same
Feels like playing a boring game
Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose
But at the end you just don't care
Dreaming of a better world
Where everyone would be nice
So you wouldn't have to hide
No one will change and you know
That's just how it is
No one cares
And no one will

Now you're alone with yourself
Asking who you really are
Feeling that you're being blamed
Feeding all your thoughts with shame
It may seem like you don't care
But inside there's something wrong
Something you're afraid to face
If you'd dare to face the truth
Maybe you would see
And who knows
Understand it

Somewhere out there in the sky
You'll be watching with pain
No one'll care about you
Nothing down here will change

Sleep!

You can say whatever you want
But there is no one to hear
You can do whatever you want
But you'll never know how it feels!

(Laughing)

You couldn't say that you wanted to die
So you went away and preferred to lie!

Are you afraid

Now alone, will you dare
So here it goes
It's time to quit it all
Just one more move
To take the pain away
You're now falling down
But you'll never reach the ground

You couldn't die so you went away
But now you realize there's not much to say

It's inner pain (It's inner pain)
It's inner pain (It's inner pain)
It's inner pain (It's inner pain)
Fuckin' Inner Pain

Wake
Up
Wake

All that you want
Is to be somewhere else
All that you need
You can't get in this hell

That's how it is
There is no place for you
Why would you stay
There's not much you can say

Somewhere out there in the sky
You'll be watching with pain
And see if someone cared

But like you said to yourself earlier today
You feel like nothing down here he'll change
It's Inner Pain...
