You were born to be used
Born to suffer 'till the day that you die
Destroy without mercy feeling no pain
Killing yourself in what they call a game
There was and will always be something wrong
Is it your fault or it's not, who really gives a shit
They don't know what to say, don't know how it feels
To be locked in a world, where you can't even live

But there is still one thing that they won't forget
It's how the fuck we've got there and managed to fuck
it

Giving up so late, wouldn't change a thing
Doing what they expect, seems like the only way
Trapped in your mind, there's no way to escape
You'll be burning in hell, just like everyone else
Existence as we know, will soon disappear
And all the blame goes to some things we couldn't control
They'll be nothing left, nothing but disgrace
You know the end is near, the end is fuckin' here

But there is still one thing that they won't forget
It's how the fuck we've got here and managed to fuck it
And if there is one thing that they won't admit
It's how the hell we've got here and managed to fuck it

Existence as we know, will soon disappear
And all the blame goes to some things we couldn't
You know the end is near, the end is fuckin' here

But there is still one thing that they won't forget
It's how the fuck we've got here and managed to fuck it
And if there is one thing that they won't admit
It's how the fuck we've got here and managed to fuck it
Even if they did took the time to realize
No one gives a shit 'cause we're here just to fuck it!

Die!

Die!
