

We Are The End

"A Portrait Painted By A Prince"

Cast down from the heavens with broken wings
Cast down, so broken

That life itself has no sight
Only blackness covers our eyes
As we clench our ears
From the screams of millions

To hell they, shall be cast
With the sentence of eternity
The prince has returned from the lake of fire
One thousand years of destruction
Will rise from the flames of hell
Damnation will reign leaving all of humanity...
Erased, from existence

All shall suffer

As the grounds collapse and engulf the sinners
His mark will shine before our eyes

Father save us
