We're cutting our teeth and taking this as far as we can go It's in our blood and will travel just to be ourselves, to be ourselves

But the only thing that matters is what tomorrow brings With my head in my hands and my eyes looking out to the sun
With my head in my hands and my eyes looking out to
the sun
But is it to much for me to ask for The waiting goes on and on and on and on and on Times flying by and I hope that were not to late

We're cutting our teeth and taking this as far as we can
It's in our blood and will travel just to be ourselves We've put our hearts and souls in to making this our own Everything we had it never was the same It's up to us to keep our wits and move along

I can't sleep without these noises, I can't sleep
We won't change the world we will have a damn god time
A damn god time

We're cutting our teeth and taking this as far as we can
It's in our blood (we won't chase away well have a damn god time) Well travel just to be ourselves (we won't chase away well have a damn god time)
