The final act sits writing death threats in the corner Line up for curtain calls or great leaps forward Sedated home in rows like graves for miles and miles
Are you living life or just getting by

Counting lives and cracks in the pavement
Will your last lines speak of glory or regret
Do you chase dollar signs?
or good times?
Are you living life or just getting by

When you close your eyes and say goodnight
for the last time
will your last lines speak of glory or regret (this is your one chance)
and it's all you get

so make the best of it will you fall asleep while years just disappear no memories just frequencies ringing in your ears
Do you chase dollar signs
or good times
Are you living life or just getting by
When you close your eyes and say goodnight
for the last time
(this is your one chance)
and it's all you get

Settling down
is an easy way to swallow giving up
settling down
is an easy way to say I'm giving up

Will your last lines speak of glory or regret?
