If they take away the solution
Then I guess there can't be a problem
It's kind of like back in soviet Russia
When they killed the poor at the hands of Stalin
So they put sanctions on education
Evolution's out, in with "god's creation"
Cut the cord to the suicide hotlines
Don't care who lives, don't care who dies

As long as they get the last word
No matter how absurd

And we won't take it anymore
No we won't take it anymore
Brace yourselves for the revolution
We're sick and tired of the new
State of the nation

They shoot down global healthcare
And keep us in a constant state of fear
They want us to have a common enemy
So we won't even think to disagree
We sign away our rights without thought
And do whatever the government wants
They'll throw away the constitution
Whatever it takes to get the battle won

So they'll always get the last word
No matter how absurd

And we won't take it anymore
No we won't take it anymore
Brace yourselves for the revolution
We're sick and tired of the new
State of the nation
State of the nation

Stand up for yourself
Stand up for yourself
No more questions, we want answers
No more questions, we want answers
No more questions, we want answers

We want answers
We want answers

And we won't take it anymore
No we won't take it anymore
Brace yourselves for the revolution
We're sick and tired of the new
State of the nation
State of the nation
State of the nation
