Follow the leader, cracking skulls and closing minds stuck in the same rotation
Follow the leader cracking skulls and closing minds no sign of communication Boys will be boys but what's the cost of all those blind eyes and foolish lines in a world where the thoughtless mind is always right blurring boundaries is all I've ever known Maybe alone isn't so alone And the cycle repeats itself as they try to change how you see yourself Pressure's building so Don't let the fucking valves all blow let them laugh the night away fingers point at everyone someday We all need to help create new ways of being man new ways of being a man And we need to throw all aggression away Sympathize and understand sympathize and understand
