Relax.
Did you forget?
None of this is even real anyway

Go back To where you came Can't you see it's all a dream and you are fast asleep again?

Close your eyes
See for yourself
How can there be a world outside when in the caverns of your mind you see... what you have been...
It's obvious you can't explain why things you've seen outside are really in

Let go and soon you'll understand the reason we come out at night
So sleep
And in this dream Become one-thousand people and not just the one that we have always been

Tie your cables to the North Dial everyone you know Tell two friends and in turn they'll tell two who'll then tell two more

Stretch your telepathic lines Broadcast everything you've heard
tell two more
