Little girl, all the world will be yours tonight
My queen of the senior prom.
And some day you'll recall, being belle of the ball
In your beautiful gown of white.

But the years disappear, fading out of sight,
And leave only memories.
So if you have a chance, wont you save me a dance
My queen of the senior prom.

My sweet co-ed, my curly head,
Your mothers pride and joy,
Here comes your date, don't let him wait.
He sure is a lucky boy.

Run along, run along, little girl of mine,
But sweetheart before you go,
Your dad has the right to a kiss goodnight,
My queen of the senior prom.
