[Words: Brian, Riffs: Duffy & Brian]

What's the use in fighting a stupid meaningless war?
They say that they want peace, but they keep buying more and more.

I don't support these traitors,
It's something I won't do I'd rather get the friends together,

Reef and drink some brew,
You're old enough to kill at 18,
But much too young to drink,
It's not that it stops us anyway,
It's just stupid, don't you think?

We can scream in their face and they still don't listen
They're fully set in their ways don't give up,
But just face the facts the world has seen better days
I love brew and it loves me

We have fun religiously fuck their war,
They won't get me 'cause life's too short to pay their fees

If I only had a beer for every bomb they have built,
To get it shape,
We drinkercise and pump aluminum.

Draft beer, not me,
Drink beer, be free
