My love is sleeping in your doorway
She can't wait until you come
She'll strum the moonbeams
Pace the mind-sky
Kiss you sprawled across her dreams
She's teasing herself into a smile
Tracing your body on her own
Let me show you what she means
Come on home
Once you get halfway home
C'mon start running
Once you get halfway home
C'mon start running
My love is sleeping in your doorway
She can't wait until you come

I hold that thought
I hold too tightly
I hold her back until she's blue
She's teasing herself into a smile
Tracing your body on her own
Let me show you what she means
Come on home
Let me speak for herself
See for yourself
Let me speak for herself
See for yourself
Once you get halfway home
C'mon start running
Once you get halfway home
C'mon start running
