Can you recall my taste at all?
My little faithless one
The fractured lie in your alibi
It didn't help you none

And you swore it was an accident
>From the world of trouble you frequent
But you came back wearing that guilty scent
This is a test (This is a test)
And it's going to cut you down to scale
This is a test (This is a test)
And it looks like you're the failure
You say you want to make it better
But I only want the best
This is a test? this is a test

We can make this easy on you or we can make it rough
By the way, I have to say you didn't love me enough

And you swore it was an accident
Are you that this is what you meant
When you're not even competent

This is a test (This is a test)
And it's going to cut you down to scale
This is a test (This is a test)
And it looks like you're the failure
You say you want to make it better
But I only want the best
This is a test? this is a test
This is a Test
