Soon is fine, you thank the scene you've found
Certain that you've always been around
Filling up with everything but guilt
Kicking down the very things you've built

CHORUS

You're fussy, you're fussy
I don't think that you want me to feel
That you want me to feel like you
I don't think that you want me to feel
That you want me to feel that way
Until you've had it today
20 million times you've shut the door

One more time to check, just to be sure
Wash your face one hundred thousand times
Makes the difference just one speck of grime

CHORUS

Tell me no is just like seeing glue
Tell me no, then I won't stick with you
Tell me no is just like mirrored you
Then I'll do the opposite from you
