I have watched you through the endless nights and i have heard you through the endless cries if you'd sit down listen to me i'd tell you all i know but you don't give me a chance so i'm here alone as i've been watching you well i've know your pain can't stop me now cause i'm strong as the pain grows and i won't hold back i have watched you through the endless nights and i have heard you through the endless cries if i know that you're watching me what is the problem because i've had to stand here alone as i've been watching you well i've known your pain can't stop me now cause i'm strong as the pain grows i won't hold back i have stood here for the endless nights and i have stood here for the endless cries i have stood here for the endless nights and i have stood here for the endless cries please don't leave i know you're there and please don't leave i know you care as i've been watching you well i've known your pain can't stop me now as the pain grows i won't hold back
