Imprisoned why should i be cold you'll just stand in heat my mind's been taken away thrown in into a dark hole the walls are black my mind is full of fear still from my face i'll wipe those tears why can't i grow old humans are dying breed please god save me please god save me i am in hell at least it's what it seems can't take this longer can't take this longer imprisoned again will i have an evil friend the walls turn black i can't see out it's happening again but i don't know exactly where to go the walls turn black i can't see out it's happening again why can't i grow old humans are dying breed please god save me please god save me i am in hell at least it's what it seems can't take this longer can't take this longer ? ? imprisoned again will i have an evil friend the walls turn black i can't see out it's happening again but i don't know where to go the walls turn black i can't see out it's happening again
