What makes you love what makes you feel what makes you believe that anything is real what makes you love what makes you hate what makes you anticipate and say that your life will wait my shadow grows and it follows me close asks me questions and i don't know will he ever leave me alone everyday's the same and he won't go away i can't escape him what makes you love what makes you live what makes you disagree what makes you come back to me my shadow grows and it follows me close asks me questions and i don't know will he ever leave me alone everyday's the same and he won't go away i can't escape his questions keep asking me and keep asking me the same old questions keep asking me keep asking me your questions what do you love what do you hate what makes you anticipate and say that your life will wait my shadow grows and it follows me close asks me questions and i don't know will he ever leave me alone everyday's the same and he won't go away i can't escape him my shadow grows and it follows me close asks me questions and i don't know will he ever leave me alone everyday's the same and he won't go away i can't escape him
