[Shane:]

Hey...
What's your name?
Do you live around here?
Don't I know your face?
You say, "I've been a stranger
For too long"
I didn't even notice I was gone
And I wanna come back home

[All (Shane in lead):]

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't home
It ain't home

[Bryan:]

Please say...
What I need to hear you say
Say, "I'm thoughtless and foolish"
But say, "it's not too late"
Now I don't know exactly
Where we go from here
But trying is the only way to know
And I wanna come back home

[All (Shane in lead):]

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know

There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't

[Bryan:]

It ain't always
Please believe me
Don't give up
Cos we're half way there
We're at the crossroads

In the middle
Between home
And between us there
All I need is
Some direction
Let me know you're here for me
Where you are
Is where I'll be

[All (Shane in lead):]

Show me the way to make a start, oh
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't

Show me the way to make a start
Show me the road back to your heart
And I've learned the only truth that I need to know
There's a million places I can go
But without you it ain't home

[Shane:]

It ain't home
