My love
My heart
Oh bruised and broken all alone
When we're apart I die inside
Oh this room is like a battlefield of love tonight

I know I should be stronger but I lose all control
Fighting with myself tryin'a hide what
You don't know

Chorus
But I get weak
I'm giving it all away
I know it's not wise to leave myself so open but
All the rules get broken in your eyes
I give it all up to you
And everything that's been keeping me together
Brings me to my knees
I get weak

One look one touch
Oh I'm helplessly pretending
You don't mean that much
It gets so hard
The waiting here forever with this shattered heart

Lying to myself tryin'a act like I don't care
The way it's killing me every time
That you're not there

But I get weak
I'm giving it all away

I know it's not wise to leave myself so open but
All the rules get broken in your eyes
I give it all up to you
And everything that's been keeping me together
Brings me to my knees
I get weak

I get weak
And all the walls I've been building up

Crack and then break when you're around
I get weak
Nothing I do to fight it matter now

But I get weak
I'm giving it all away
I know it's not wise to leave myself so open but
All the rules get broken in your eyes
I give it all up to you
And everything that's been keeping me together
Brings me to my knees
I get weak

I get weak, I get weak
And all the rules get broken in your eyes
I give it all up to you
And everything that's been keeping me together
Brings me to knees
I get weak
