It's something occasionally it subsides to love them
Right there in front of your eyes
And show you but it never happens when you want it to It's easy when it's not expected just drop over
I'm sure you're gonna be surprised to find that it's right there in front of your eyes.
Almost always never make the grade
Stupid lesson understatement made
What were you expecting?
Yeah, yeah, yeah
OK, I lied it's not like we've been wasting time
Besides it's something we all need in our lives
Ain't it something how that's the thing we can't disguise

The selfish act of trickery betrayed
Only meant to turn your eyes away
From everything you've been so taught 'til these days
I was only hoping maybe we could get away

How could I have ever known what was on your mind?
How could I have ever known what was on your mind?

And I thought I made it easy on you
Answers just befell you
If you're feeling that your world is bad
If you're feeling that your world is bad

Now you'll see you've made it hard on me
Tables turned and worry free yeah
Oh, it's so hard to disagree
Desperate measures hastily decay
When you choose to turn your eyes away
From everything you've been so taught 'til these days
I was only hoping maybe we could get away
