

Whatever "Everything"

Visit "Everything" on MotoLyrics.com like all of us

we're breaking down
we're blowing all our senses and fooling around

it's not ourselves who talking it never is and often we're forgetting to shed our tears

everything I am is anything I'm trying to be everything keeps coming down on me forget your fears see what you get and if there is something well then I bet it's not yours and it's something that comes and goes

everything becoming far too close to see always here, always there a chance for possibility
