We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We are the stalkers
We are your shadow
We are the stalkers
We are your shadow

It's me, I really hope you will be able to hear this
And I hope it won't take too long
I feel completely lost and I know there is Something really strange going on

I've been like this far too long
It's getting worse and worse
I feel like I haven't slept in ages

I can feel them always right behind
Casting a shadow on my mind
But I know I have to hang on

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We are the stalkers
We are your shadow

Now all my hope is that you're really there
And my mind just almost turned insane
Can you hear this? Are you out there?
Please help me turn back the pages
I want to go back from where I came

How much time has passed?
I can feel they're almost here
Can you hear me? Where have you gone?

I can feel my thoughts dying out
So my last thought is just your name
And it is all that will remain

I can feel my thoughts dying out
So my last thought is just your name
And it is all that will remain

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know we serve someone else
We have swallowed our pride
We march to this tune of loss
We take this in our stride

I can hear them coming
I will be one of them

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
We're always right behind

We know who it is we want
We have a collective mind
We don't miss a single step
